MONEY TALKS

Work hard,
Save money
Prepare for the future

A great many people who earn less than others have bank accounts because they are prudent, saving regularly a part of what they earn.

It doesn't take much figuring to see the folly of spending all you earn, thus robbing yourself of future independence and happiness.

A bank account is the result of a sand look ahead. We will help you save. Begin with any amount, however small. Interest paid on savings.

HOSPITAL MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

The Beaver Hospital will be moved this week to its new location on the second floor of the new McKillips building, one door north of the post office. This building is of new and modern construction and was arranged especially for hospital purposes. The rooms are large, well lighted and well ventilated and will be cool and comfortable in summer for the patients as well as warm and cheerful in winter. Dr. Levi, physician in charge of the hospital, is fortunate in securing such an admirable location.

CANDIDATES ANNOUNCE FOR OFFICE

Several announcements of candidates for office appear in this issue of the Herald. Owing to the same coming in late and other unavoidable circumstances, we will be unable to give each candidate personal mention this week, however, we will do so in subsequent issues and during the campaign will have much to say as to the peculiar fitness of each candidate for the office he seeks. Note the announcement column on another page of this issue.

FLOUR MILL FOR BEAVER

The Beaver Commercial Club held a special meeting Monday evening May 29, 1916, for the purpose of considering a proposition for the location of a Flour Mill in Beaver.

Mr. Berryann and Mr. Sublette who are promoting the project explained to the Club in detail their proposition which was unanimously accepted and a committee consisting of J. W. Webb, W. H. Robertson and H. N. Lawson was appointed to confer with these gentlemen and make all necessary arrangements relative to the same.

Poly Tischer, attorney for Jacob Achenbach, who was in Beaver relative to railroad matters was a guest of the club at this meeting and was prevailed upon by the Club to make a short address which was heartily enjoyed by everyone. Mr. Tischer is a forcible and pleasing speaker and he paid a pretty and justly deserved tribute to the Citizens of Beaver and surrounding community upon their zeal and perseverance in obtaining the railroad and upon the marvelous growth the City has made during the past eight months.

The next regular meeting of the Club will be the first Monday in June. Join the Club and be a booster for Beaver.

DECORATION DAY OBSERVED

Memorial Sunday and Decoration Day, Tuesday, May 30th, were fittingly observed by Beaver citizens and once more honor and tribute was paid to those who fought in the Great Struggle for their country's freedom and who now sleep "Under the sod and the dew, waiting the Judgment day; Under the laurel the Blue; Under the willow the Gray."

Memorial services were conducted at the tabernacle, Rev. Chas. D. Norman, pastor of the Methodist church, delivering the address. His remarks were well chosen and a fitting tribute paid to both the living and the dead.

Decoration Day was observed by exercises at the cemetery in the morning at which time the graves were decorated and the G. A. R. held brief services. The thin ranks of the Old Soldiers was sadly noticed. Only a few of the Old Boys were out and as they walked with feeble tottering step, proudly carrying Old Glory before them, the thought must have occurred to all present that it would only be a few more years, at the most, until all would have answered the final roll call and it would then devolve upon the sons and daughters of veterans to keep the camp fires burning.

In the afternoon exercises were held at the tabernacle. The band and choir furnished music. Rev. L. L. Shaw, pastor of the Christian church, delivered the address of the day. Others made brief remarks and the Old Soldiers made short talks. Rev. Shaw gave a splendid talk which was to the point and filled with zeal and patriotism. The remainder of the program was also much enjoyed.

ALWAYS GLAD TO PAY

There is one bill which comes to this office which we are always glad to pay and that is the bill for the maintenance of the street sprinkler. The constant sprinkling of the streets the past few weeks, during the extremely dry weather and the high winds, has been all that has made it possible to breathe without inhaling vast quantities of sand and dirt. While we may be able to get along without some conveniences, we hardly see how we can do without the street sprinkler now. It is a real treasure.

FOUNDER OF BEAVER PAYS TOWN A VISIT

Judge E. B. Jewett, one of the founders of the town of Beaver, paid this city a call Saturday of last week and while here called at the Herald office. Judge Jewett in company with F. H. Jones and H. Hewitt drove overland from their home in Wichita, Kansas. They were in this section in the interest of the Farmers' and Bankers' Life Insurance Company, of which Judge Jewett is treasurer and the other gentlemen salesmen, and while so near drove on over to Beaver to take a look at the town and note its development.

In company with other Wichita men Judge Jewett founded the town of Beaver in 1887 and it was he who gave the town its name. One of the principal streets of the town and one which seems destined to become the leading residence street bears his name. It is Jewett avenue, the first street west of Douglas avenue. The gentlemen were much pleased with Beaver and the surrounding country and were favorably impressed with the splendid progress which the town has made and its brilliant prospects for the future.

Judge Jewett has spent many years and much money in town development in the west and is prepared to know whereof he speaks when it comes to predicting futures in new and undeveloped sections. He gave it as his opinion that Beaver was particularly well located so as to enjoy steady and substantial growth and that the town should in time make a live bustling little city. Every indication seems to point in that direction at this time. There certainly is a most remarkable change since the little company of Wichita promoters pushed their way into the then, "No Man's Land" and laid off the town of Beaver on the banks of the river of the same name. Many changes have been wrought in the thirty years that have passed since that time. The little borg has witnessed many stirring events and its name and fame has spread far abroad. Few inland towns have attained the notoriety that Beaver enjoyed even before the building of the railroad, and this latest achievement has certainly put us in a class by ourself when it comes to doing things and getting what we go after.

J. R. CRABTREE PASSES AWAY

The Death Angel entered our midst again this week snatching away one of our old and honored citizens, J. R. Crabtree, who passed away at Winfield, Kansas, Monday, May 29th, following an operation for gall stones. The remains were brought to Beaver and funeral services conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church by Rev. L. L. Shaw. Interment was made in Beaver cemetery.

Mr. Crabtree had been a resident of Beaver for many years having proved up a homestead near here and was well known and respected by a wide circle of friends and neighbors. He was an Old Soldier and his departure brought keen sorrow to his old comrades who had been associated with him for years and whose ranks are fast growing thin. Only a few remain and but three were able to attend the funeral. He was also a member of the Methodist church and for years had lived a faithful, consistent Christian life. He is survived by three sons, James and Andy, of Beaver, and Ernest, of Wichita, Kansas, and five daughters, Mrs. C. P. Parks, of Winfield, Kansas, Mrs. L. L. Brannoff, of Newkirk, Mrs. Perry York and Mrs. McCleeny, of Washington, and Miss Erma Crabtree, of Beaver. The wife and two children preceded him to the Great Beyond.

By the death of this man a respected citizen, a kind father and a good neighbor has passed to his long rest. During the many years which he lived in our midst his life was clean and open, he thought or did no harm to anyone and was ever ready to assist those who needed him. When, after a long and useful life, he was called to his reward, he left behind him a record for uprightness, honesty and morality which few obtain and which after all, is life's greatest heritage.

It is with sincere regret that we chronicle the passing of Mr. Crabtree and we extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow. In so doing, we are joined by a host of friends who knew him and respected him and whose hearts go out in tender sympathy for the bereaved.

Three surgical operations were performed by Dr. Levi at the Beaver Hospital on Tuesday of this week. The patients are A. C. Lovett, who lives six miles east of Forgan; C. B. Black, of the same community, and H. A. Baumgartner, of Logan. Each operation was entirely successful and the patients are convalescing nicely.

B. H. S. COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The Class of '16, B. H. S., held their Commencement exercises at the Christian church, Friday night, at which time a class of six graduates received their diplomas. Miss Mabel Green was salutatorian and Miss Anna Hughes, valedictorian. The other graduates were Misses Eva Green, Reola Mansfield, Melissa Hebbard, and Alfred Huguley. Rev. Chas. D. Norman, pastor of the Methodist church delivered an address to the graduates and special music was provided.

In bidding goodbye to Beaver High the senior class do not expect to abandon their educational work but aspire to go on in higher institutions of learning until they have reached the top of the ladder and have received their college degree. A number of the class will probably enter Oklahoma university next year.

The class of '16 have done good work the past year and deserve a great deal of credit for the record they have made. Choosing for their motto, "Ich Dien", which means "I serve" or "Service", they have endeavored to live up to its true meaning and have done faithful, diligent work during the entire year.

The exercises Friday night were a fitting climax to the school year. Each graduate had a part in the program and all did remarkably well. It is indeed a credit to Beaver schools to graduate such a class and not only the boys and girls but the patrons of the schools and all interested in the cause of education feel a pride in the splendid record which B. H. S. has made.

BEAVER WINS AGAIN

Beaver and Liberal baseball teams crossed bats on the Beaver diamond Saturday afternoon. The wild enthusiasm which generally attends the games was lacking, probably due to the fact that the scores ran high and from the first the indications were favorable for victory for the home team. Beaver won by a score of 14 to 9.

Mumps have made their appearance in Beaver. Little Hale Loofbourrow is the first victim.

THE ONLY NATIONAL BANK IN BEAVER COUNTY

LOOK UP, LIFT UP!

In order to break the monotony of the daily grind upon the physical and mental powers of man, and for the purpose of bringing the young people of the town into closer relation, the Epworth League of the Beaver M. E. church, gave a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Smith last Wednesday evening, May 24th. There were some thirty young men and young women present, and a most joyous and auspicious evening was spent. With this social began a contest for the purpose of increasing the membership of the league. Eleven new members were obtained that evening. The contest is to extend over a period of four weeks, at the expiration of which time the losing side will be held responsible for an entertainment given in honor of the victorious side. Keep in touch with us that you might learn which side will be compelled to act as hostess.

A MEMBER.

Measles continue to rage among the little folks. They have about run their course however and since the malady has been of a light form in most instances, no serious effects have resulted.

A MODERN PLAYHOUSE FOR BEAVER

Spangler Bros. have changed the original plans somewhat and instead of erecting an air dome on the lot just south of the Herald office, they are now planning a complete and modern home for their show. The building will be 25 x 118 feet and is being planned after having inspected a score or more of similar places in different cities and the managers hope to incorporate all the good points in their plans and eliminate all the bad ones. The stage is to be 20 x 24 feet, large enough to accommodate almost any theatrical company, with two dressing rooms. It is expected that all plans will be completed and construction begun within the next ten days.

BANK MOVES TO NEW HOME

The First National Bank moved into its new home on the corner of Second and Douglas the past week. The new building is a most attractive one. The extensive plate glass windows, insure the best lighting facilities as well as add beauty to the general appearance of the structure. The inside decorations and fixtures are also very attractive. The building is an ornament to that corner and a most desirable location for the bank.

Summer Normal.

I have arranged for Summer Normal to be held at Beaver, beginning June 5th. I have been led to do this from the expressions of many of the teachers of this county who wish to attend Normal and do not feel that they can afford the expense necessary to attend summer schools at one of the State Normals. I have secured competent instructors and feel that this will be one of the most successful normals ever held in this county.

The law requires that teachers must attend normal if certificates are to be renewed. Remember that there are extra subjects added to the requirements and that you should take advantage of this opportunity.

In order to lessen the expense, a boarding club will be organized if the teachers wish.

I urge every teacher to be present. Your presence will be helpful.
